OSCAR B. GOODMAN

Born July 1939 in Philadelphia and a graduate from The Haverford School and the University of Pennsylvania Law School, Oscar Goodman moved to Las Vegas and was admitted to the Nevada State Bar Association in 1965. He became one of the nation's best criminal defense attorneys, named one of the "15 Best Trial Lawyers in America" by the National Law Journal. A review of his 'connected' list of clients also makes him notorious - Meyer Lansky, Nicky Scarfo, Herbert "Fat Herbie" Blitzstein, Phil Leonetti, Jamiel "Jimmy" Chagra, Anthony "Tony the Ant" Spilotro, and former Stardust Casino boss, Frank "Lefty" Rosenthal.

From noted mob attorney to the Mayor of Las Vegas, Goodman was sworn in June 1999 and served the maximum of three terms or twelve years, securing over 80 percent of the vote in every election. The self-proclaimed "Happiest Mayor in the Universe," Goodman was known for his trademark tell-it-like-it-is approach and a vision for Downtown Las Vegas that led to continued revitalization and growth. Goodman then had the distinct pleasure of swearing in his wife, Carolyn Goodman, as his successor.

After his tenure as mayor, Goodman has remained active in the Las Vegas community. He is Las Vegas' primary ambassador as chairman of the Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority (LVCVA) Host Committee, which welcomes major conventions and special events to the city and takes a leading role in educating the community on the importance of tourism to the local economy. Goodman also has taken up acting by playing himself on an episode of the primetime hit series "CSI Las Vegas" and in the movie "Casino" in which he represented "Ace Rothstein," a character based on Lefty Rosenthal and played by Robert DeNiro. He also treasures the fact that Oscar's Steakhouse in the heart of downtown inside the iconic Plaza glass dome bears his name and can often be found dining- always with his signature martini in hand.

With vintage Vegas ambiance, personal service, multiple menu options and even the opportunity to meet Oscar and have him as a guest of honor*, Oscar's Steakhouse is the perfect location for your group's dinner or reception.
